Nicole's Recommended Reading Order

Want to read my books in the order I recommend? Follow the steps below.

01

Come on into Meet Cute Café or crash a cabin

Start with either my connected short stories (The Meet Cute Café or read a novella featuring a celeb and a snowy cabin (Cabin Crasher).

02

Visit Chicago or hang out with some celebs

Then, check out The Chicago Series (which is connected to other series) or read the Celebrities Series

03

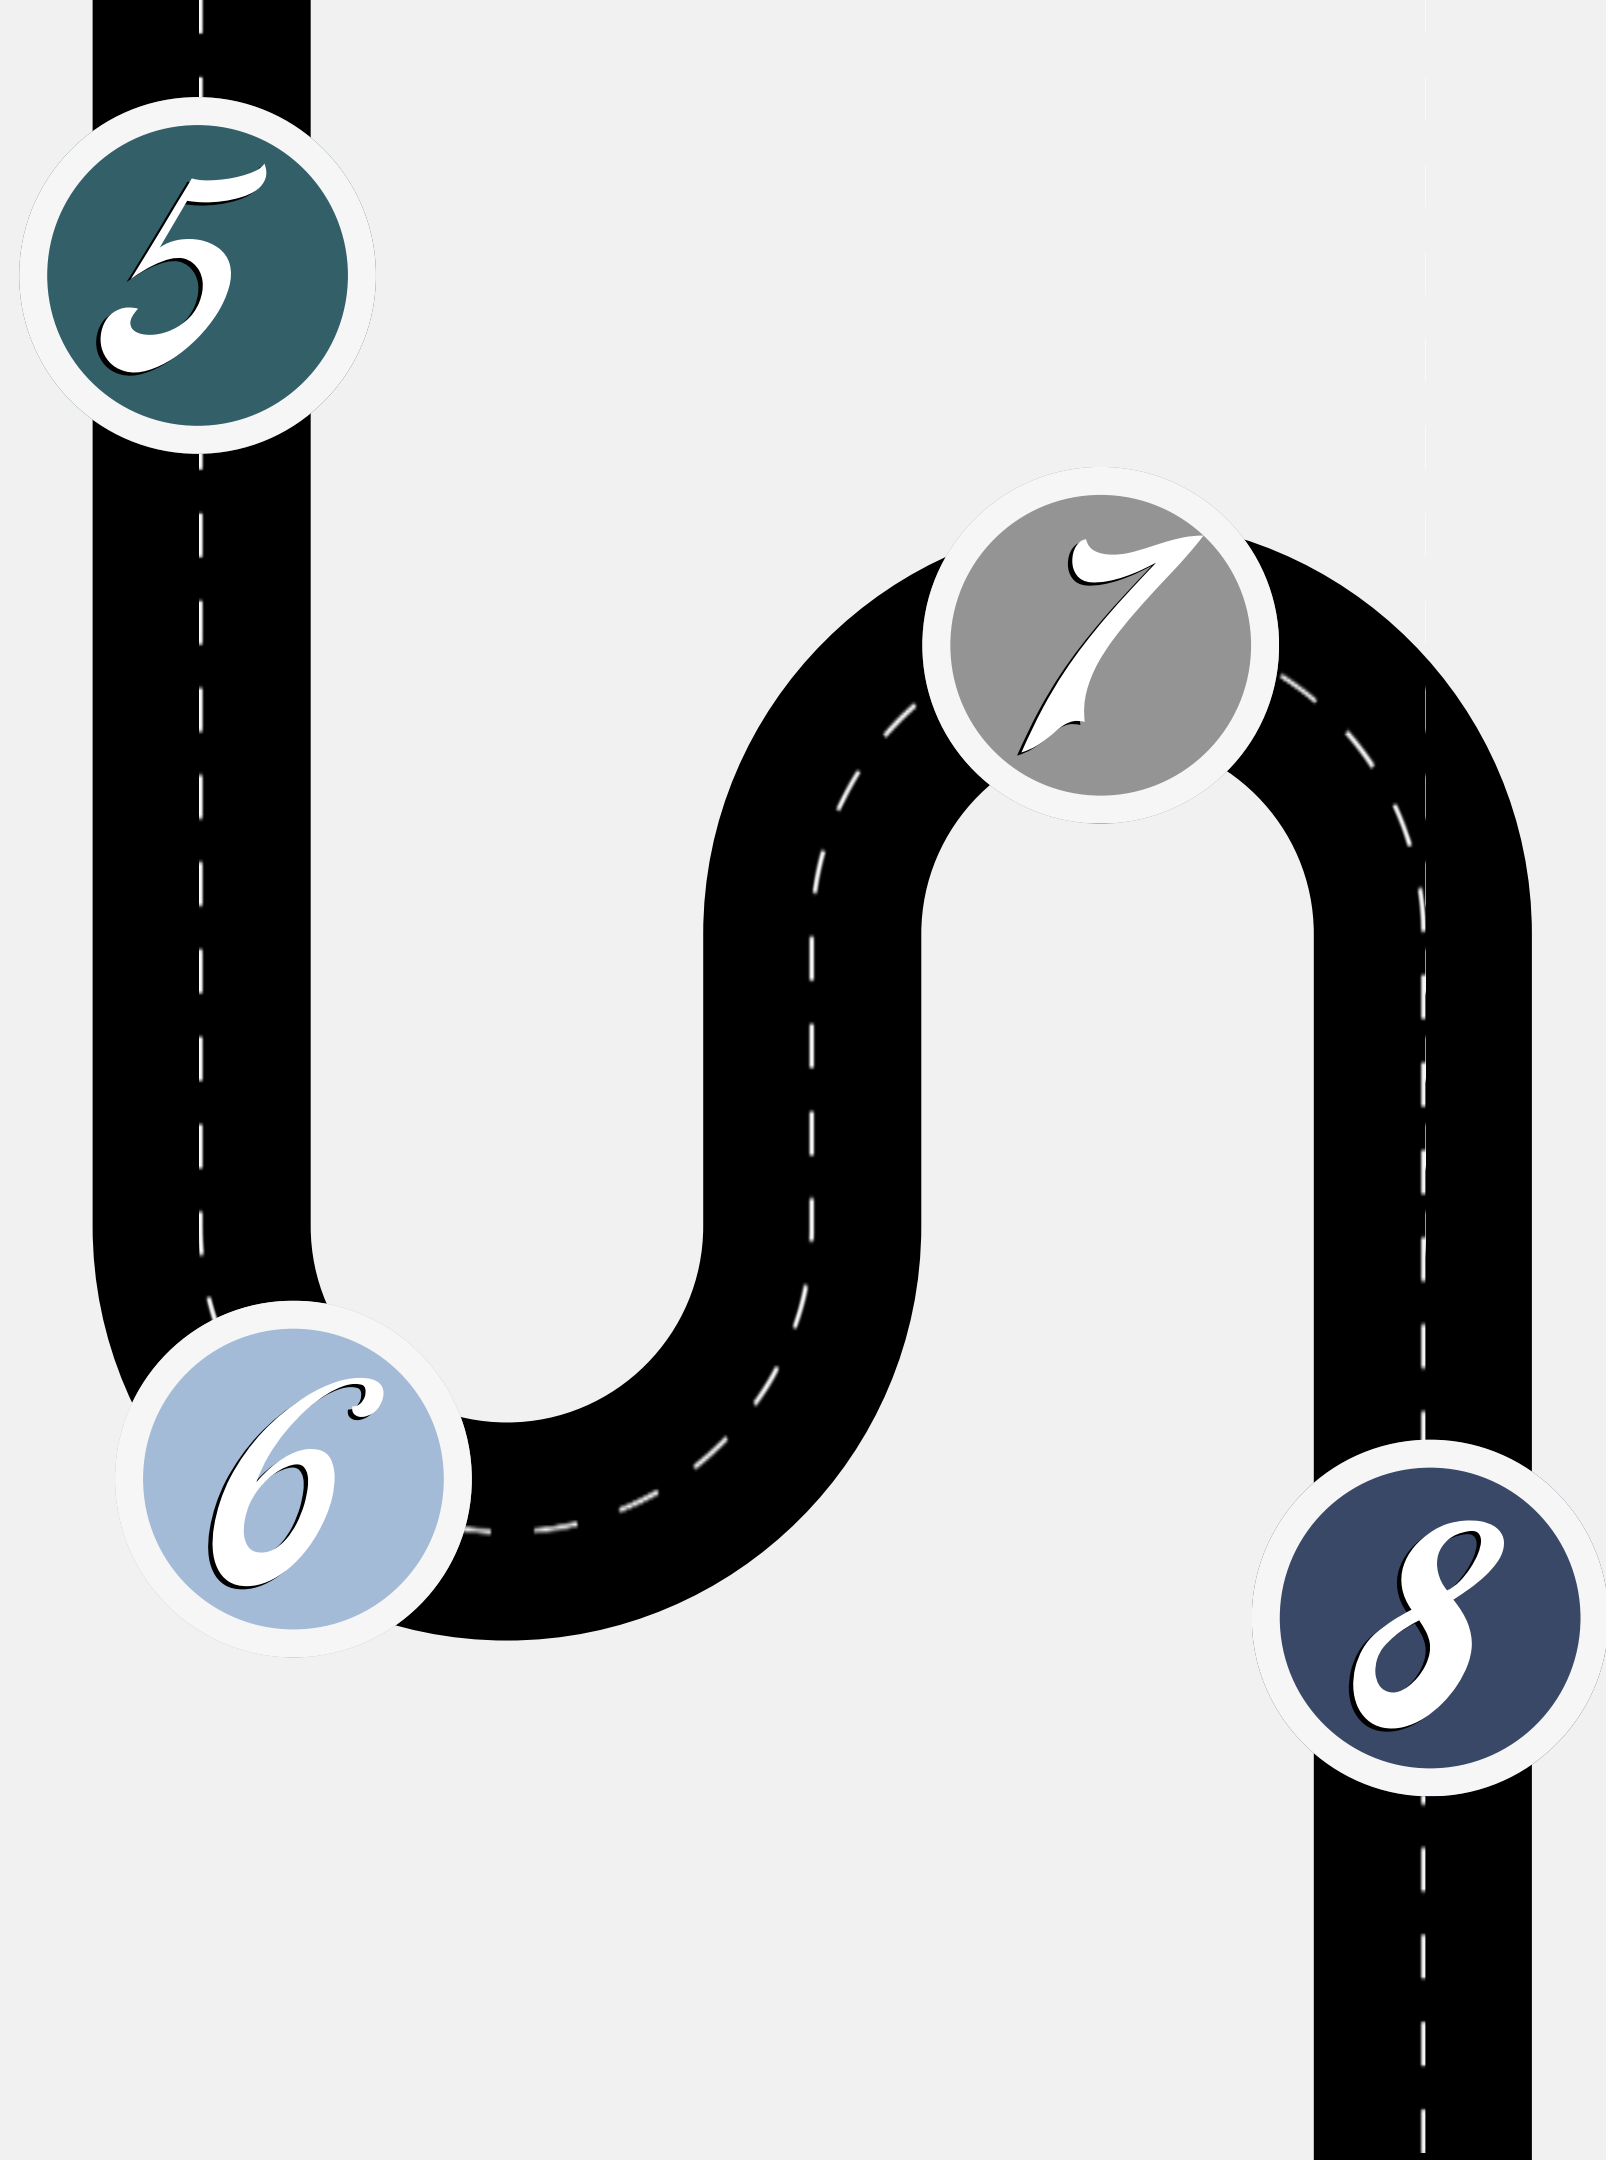

Go to San Francisco & check out Tahoe

After Chicago, visit San Francisco, but only read Checking the Right Box. Then, read Keep Tahoe Blue before you return to Macon's Heart.

04

Take on Tahoe & visit Boston

Once you finish San Francisco, return to Tahoe and read Time of day. When you're done with the Tahoe Series, you can visit Boston in the Boston Series.

05

Meet some celebrities

If you haven’t yet met the celebs of the Celebrities Series, now’s the time. It’s not connected to any other series.

06

Live in The Moment(s)

It’s time for a stand-alone. I recommend The Moments, one of my first with 2 paths toward a happy ending.

07

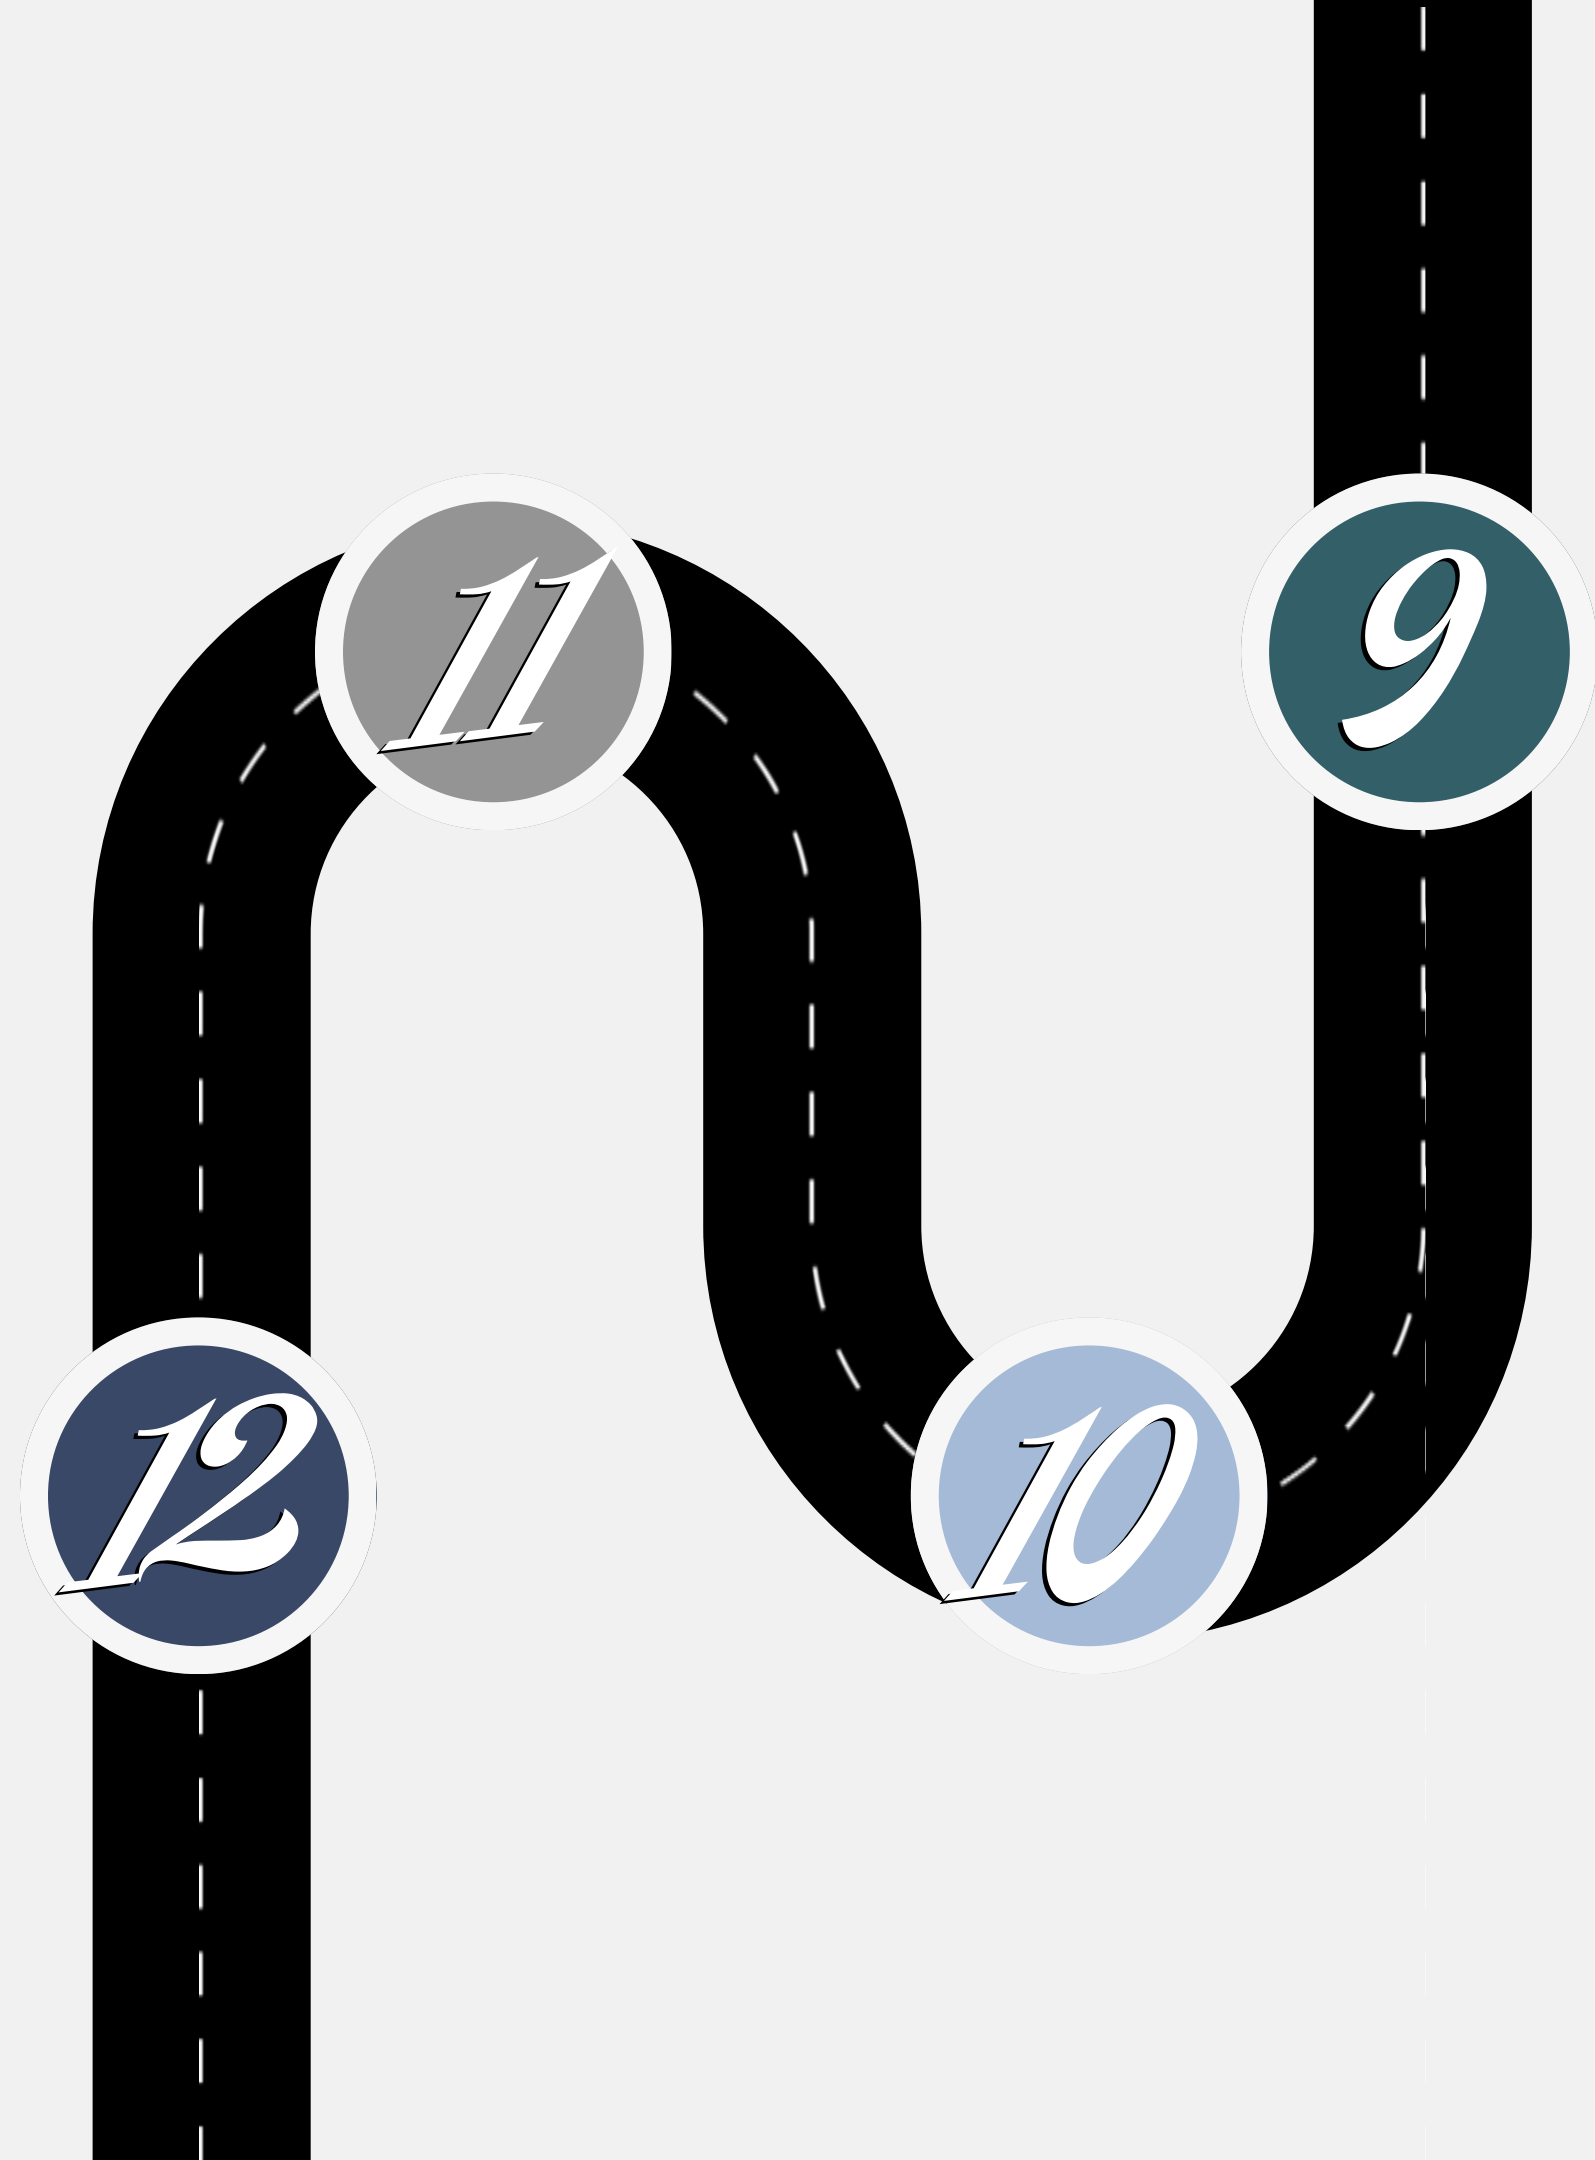

Heat things up with The Fire Universe

The Fire Universe is a combo pack of romance and crime, but all couples receive a happy ending. Start with The Fire and read all 4 books.

08

Read the proposals

Want a quick break from my novels? Check out the Proposal Series, which features shorts of some of the proposals from fan favorite characters.

09

Read another stand-alone

Check out Love Forged (new adult, friends-to-lovers), Reality Check (reality TV show competitors), or The Show Must Go on (actress and her TV show producer).

10

Time to play some sports

Dive into the Sports Series! Enjoy romance and volleyball, archery, softball, soccer, basketball, snowboarding, & beach volleyball.

11

Go to a Pride Festival

Take a series break with a stand-alone novella. Pride Festival is a coming of age story that will capture your heart.

12

Is it getting hot in here?

If you're into erotica, check out mine now. Start with Once a Month, dive into Voyeur, and then, you can read Singles' Week

13

Time for the holidays

Check out the Holiday Series featuring 6 best friends falling in love around different holidays, & don't forget to read the What Happened After finale novella!

14

Meet the royals

Join queens & princesses as they meet the loves of their lives while trying to run countries in the Royalty Series.

15

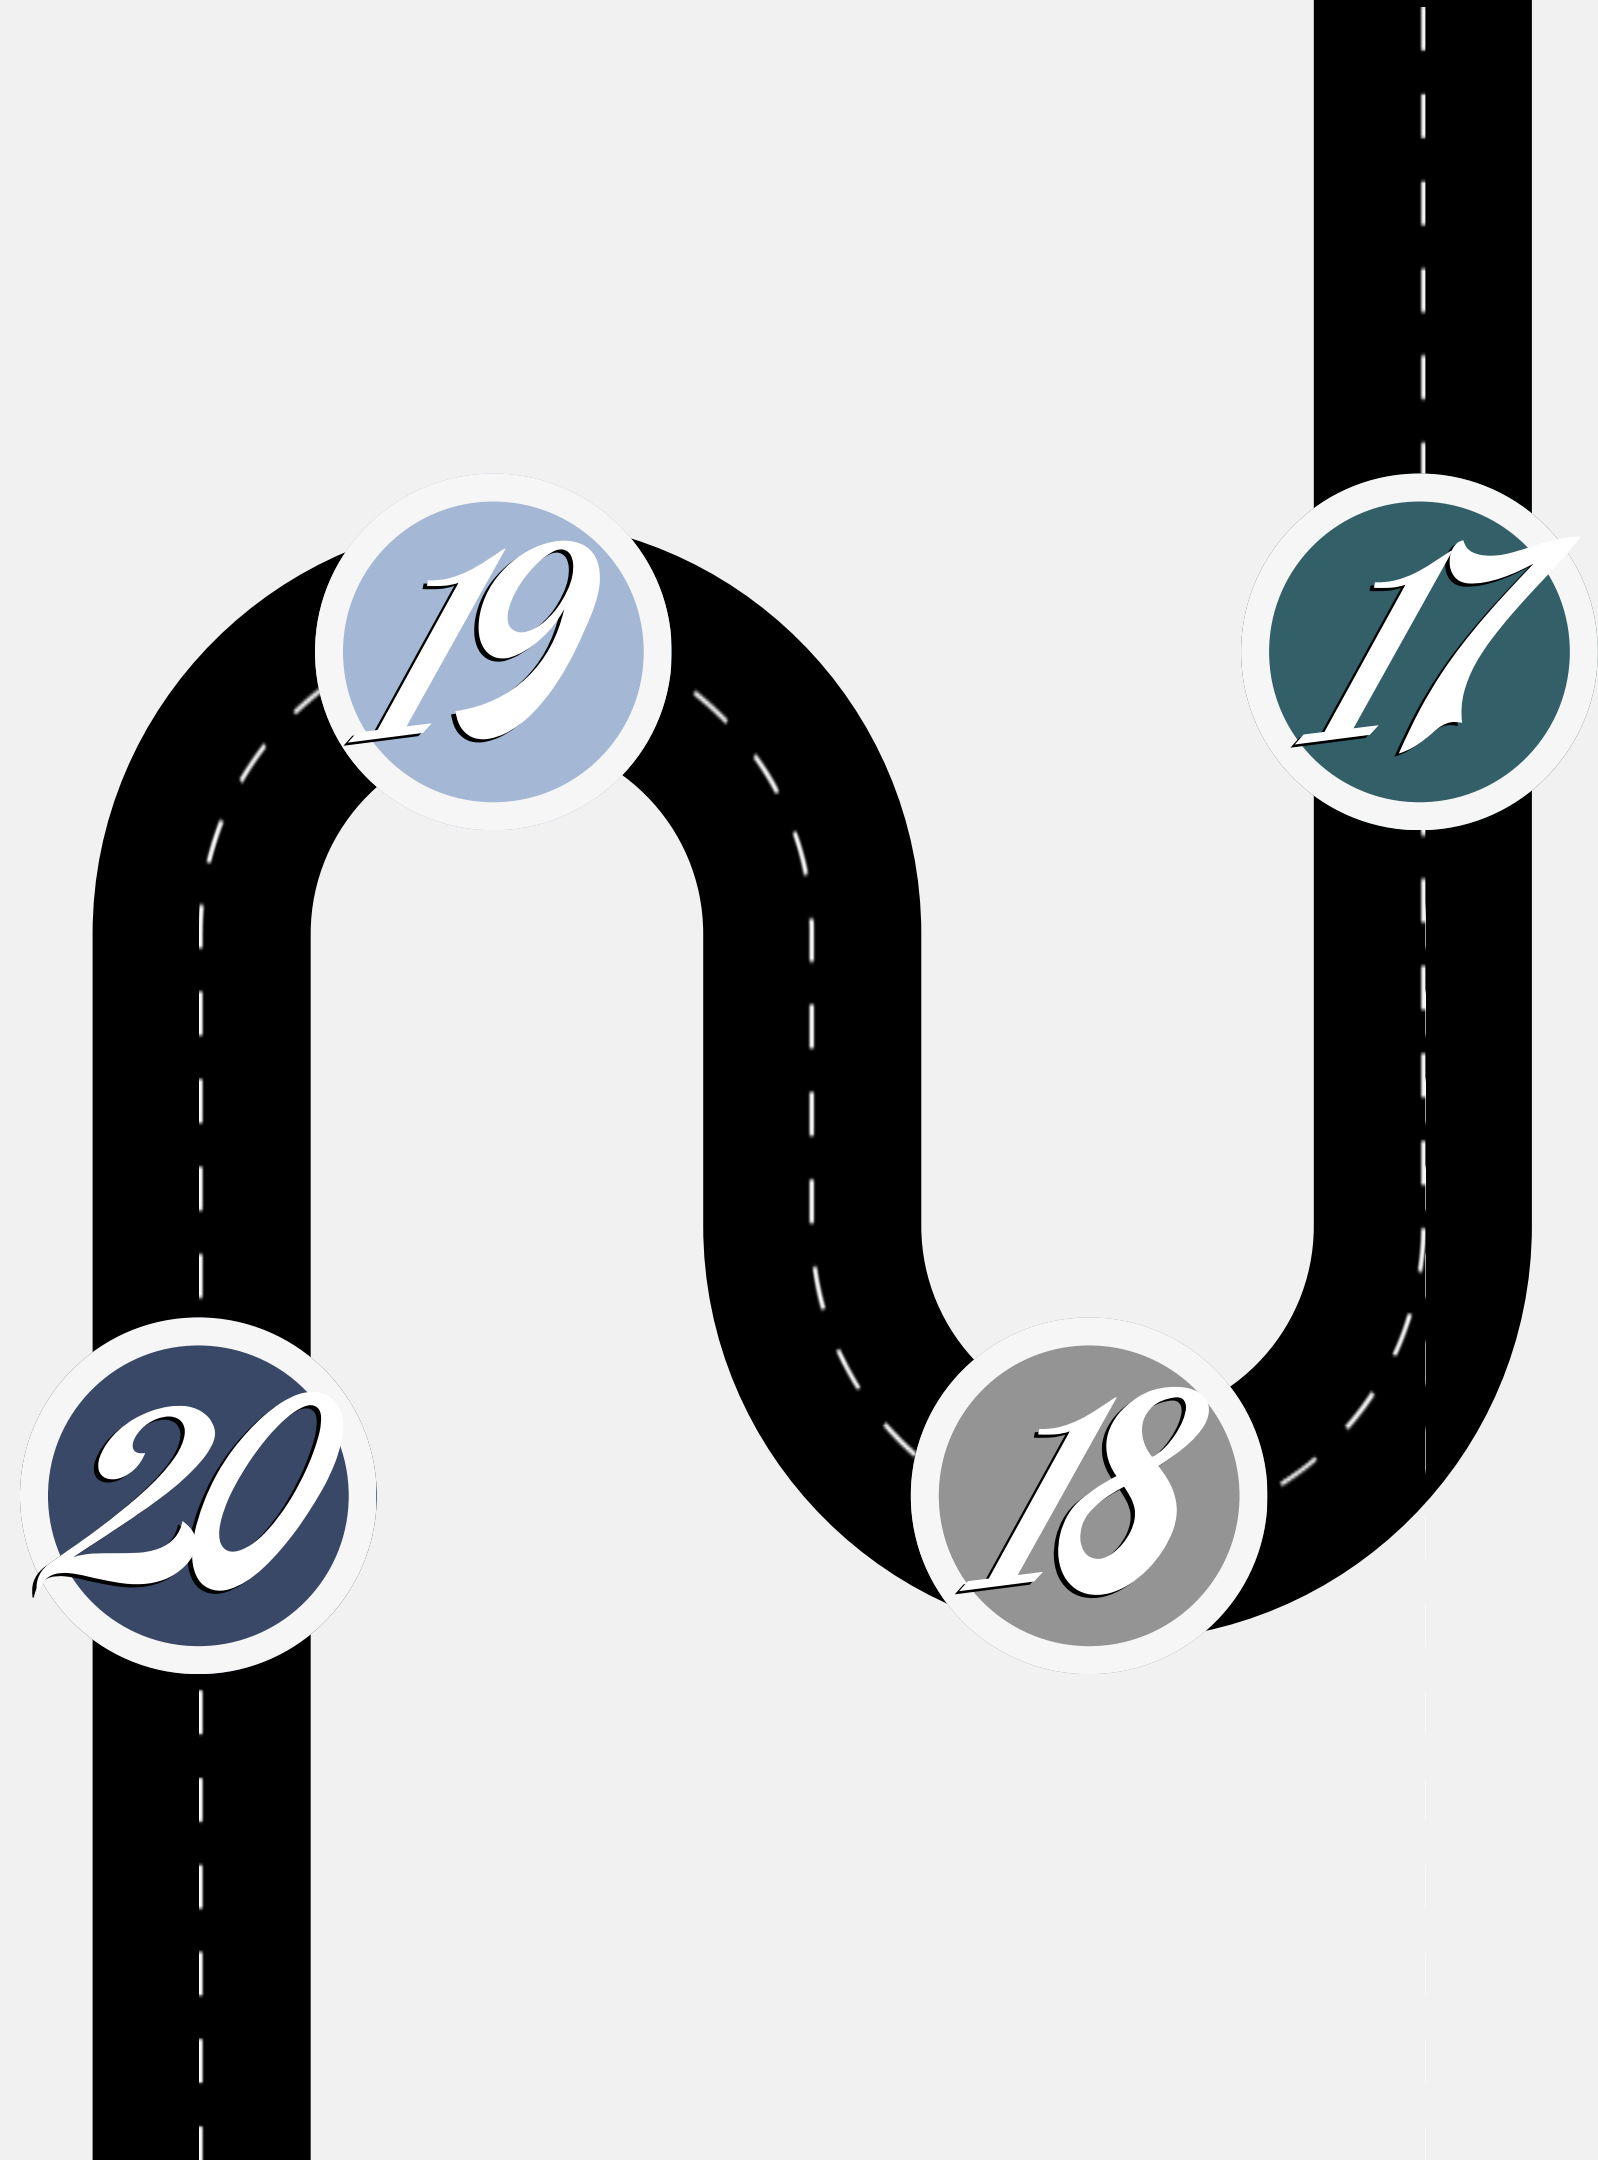

Take a turn into sci-fi and more

Future Wife, SoulMatch, TruLove, Echoes, and Origins of Eternity are definitely worth diving into if you like a little sci-fi, paranormal, or vampires in your romances.

16

A timeless read

Timeless is my reincarnated romance stand-alone novel and I recommend you give it a read. Have the tissues ready, but no worries, there is a happy ending.

17

Visit New Orleans

I love New Orleans, so I wrote my longest series ever (12 books) about women falling in love in the city.

18

The science of love

If you love to learn about love, Love Study might be the stand-alone for you. It's a friends to lovers story about a scientist studying love.

19

Double date time

Join two celebrities as they meet another couple for a double date weekend that doesn't go how anyone expected.

20

Starting up

Check out my most recent series, the Start-up Series about 4 friends who fall in love while building a company together.
